

SLOPPY CROSSWORD

Due to a small gas leak in the puzzle writers room, this crossword has turned out a bit sloppy!

To be honest not sure what most of them mean, but you can figure it out

Across:

3. What's the name of that shirt-cocking duck? I think he was in the navy?
5. It's um, like, I don't know, a chicken but big and really old, like ancient.
6. That thing that comes out all wet and crying.
7. What is it called, like - you watch something on Jonaflix instead of like cable TV? It... It's like a river or something?

Down:

1. Like uh, like a Small Smart Whale?
2. Once I saw a movie where a kid drowned in this stuff and all the adults were fine with it. They just kept going on their tour
4. Michelangelo's favourite food. That good hot and saucy.
6. You wanna see the Hat man? Just take a few of these bad boys and stay awake and you can find him in the bathroom mirror.
8. It's kinda like, uh, pee-pee but from an animal and you drink it for some reason

BALANCE THE BOOKS

JONACO Accounts love to balance their books using this special system, we know the numbers we want, but need you to figure out how we get there.

Using only the numbers provided below fill in the blank spaces surrounding the arithmetic signs so all the math checks out from left to right and from up to down. Use each of the nine numbers only once.

SPOT THE DIFFERENCE

There are 8 differences to find between the two images below, can you find all of them? I found all of them, but I also created the images so I guess I had a head start. It did take me over 2 hours find the 8th one though.
